Old Errowanbang Woolshed is a heritage-listed shearing shed at Errowan Park, Old Errowanbang Lane, Errowanbang. It was designed by Watt and built in 1886. The shed is unique in that it is constructed on four levels, all of which can be operated separately depending on demand. From the exterior these levels are clearly seen as distinct wings radiating from a central control room. The large complex has 40 shearing stands, of which 26 have never been adapted for mechanical shearing.
